BRITAIN'S CHAMBERLAIN PLEDGE DETERMINATION

POLAND: PARLIAMENT TO PASS SPECIAL LAWS TO-DAY

Unsuccessful Last-Minute Appeal To Hitler: Resolution To Check Further Aggression With

LONDON, Aug. 24 (Reuter) - "The international situation has steadily deteriorated since July 31 until to - day we find ourselves confronted with the imminent peril of war", declared the Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, in his speech at the re-assembling of Parliament to-day.

THE STATEMENT WAS HEARD BY A HOUSE OF COMMONS IMBUED WITH A SENSE OF THE DEEP GRAVITY OF THE OCCASION. AFTER THE SPEECH, THE HOUSE WILL PASS LEGISLATION FOR THE DEFENCE OF THE REALM.

THE PRIME MINISTER, AT THE OUTSET, ANNOUNCED THAT THE 11 P.M. ADJOURNMENT RULE WOULD BE SUSPENDED TO ENABLE THE LEGISLATION TO PASS THROUGH THE HOUSE OF COMMONS AND THE HOUSE OF LORDS TO-DAY.

Mr. Chamberlain proceeded to say that when the House adjourned few could have anticipated that it would be for long. The Government had been compelled to ask Parliament to meet to take such new drastic steps as the situation required.

Recalling the discussions between Danzig and Poland and the position of Polish customs officials, Mr. Chamberlain said that this was not a matter of major, importance.

GERMAN LIES EXPOSED

The discussions were actually in progress when the German press opened a violent campaign against Poland and declared that Danzig could not be the subject of any conference or compromise but it must come back to the Reich immediately and unconditionally. They went further. They linked up with Danzig the question of the Corridor and alleged ill-treatment of Germans living in Poland.

"We have no means of checking these stories. We cannot help being struck by the fact that they bear strong resemblance to similar allegations last year (Cheers) in respect ci Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia," said Mr. Chamberlain.

No subject was more calculated to arouse ill-feeling in any country than such statements as ill-treatment of their nationals and he thought it was agreed that in the face of this campaign the Polish declarations had shown great calm and self-restraint.

Mr. Chamberlain, after paying further tribute to the Polish atti- pact was hailed in Berkin tude, said that on the other hand with extreme, jubilation. military preparations had been great diplomatic victory which made by Germany on such a scale removed the threat of war over that Germany was now in a state of complete readiness for war. Coming to the Soviet-German Pact, the Prime Minister declared that the annonncement came to the Government as a surprise-a surprise of a very unpleasant character.

Although there had been rumours of an impending change in Soviet-German relations inkling of that change had been conveyed either to us or the French Government by the corret." This bombshell was flung down when discussions between Britain. France and the Soviet were proceeding and had proceeded on a basis of mutual trust. To say the least it was highly disturbing to learn that these conversations were proceeding on that basis, and that the Soviet were secretly negotigting for a pact with Germany for a purpose on the face of itinconsistent with the objects of their foreign policy as we understood it (General cheers).

PLEDGE TO POLAND

The Premier recalled the guarantee to Poland was given before any agreement with Russia was talked of. "How can we go back on our obligations which we have so often and so pointedly repeated?" asked Mr. Chamberlain force-

"Therefore, our first act was to 'srue a statement that our obligations to Poland and other countries remained unaffected."

Proceeding to refer to British defence measures. Mr. Chamberlain said that hitherto these had heen precautionary and of a detensive character. He repudiated emphatically any suggestion that these measures implied an act of LONDON, Aug. 24 (Reuter)-There is a general impression here that the haste with which the terms of the German-Soviet Pact were announced in the middle of the night in Berlin is some indication of the high propaganda value attached to it. MY ONLY SUGGESTION May sound somewhat insne, but it has worked in the past and I am passing it on to you for what it is worth. When you see one of the neighbours coming with a borrowing gleam in his eyes, think of something to borrow, yourself, and ask first. Borrow from them until it hurts. ABOUT WORD BEAUTY the thirteenth century there was a Georgian queen named Tamar of Imratia. She was a great one for the body beautiful, and her marble baths at Tiflis were the talk of the town. There she and, the lovely ladies of her court would go for their luxurious bathing and have their skins made smooth as silk.

This was done with a depilatory that was not only painless, harmthese facts, very wonderful.

Whatever became of the formula gloves are made to match no one knows, but seven hundred years later this same method has been revived, although the ingredients could hardly be the same.

The new preparation's named Imra (in honour of the beautyconscious queen) and is the proud "creation" of Chevaller Garde. fluffy white cream this is which left on the skin a few moments and then rinsed away, leaving only satin smoothness and a delicious suggestion of flowers

Not Camouflage

The perfume is definitely not a camouflage for an unpleasant "depilatory" odour, it's just there to make you feel completely dainty. The preparation does not coarsen the hair nor does it leave a bleached streak on the skin. The new beauty preparation is becoming a success in all fashion centres.

For the ladies of beauty there is a new mascara. Ronni's which comes in a tiny tube, and works out this way. When you unscrew the cap, out comes a teensy comb, nicely bedewed with moist mascara. You comb on your eye makeup which goes on with beautiful precision because the funny little thing separates lashes as it darkens them. Needs no water for applying, so you can carry the whole small affair in your bag against emergencies.

AUTUMN ACCESSORIES IMPORTANT

Fashion centres are seething with new ideas and styles for the ladies handbags, gloves, shoes, hats, jewels, gowns, suits and furs.

The outstanding popularity so far regarding autumn's apparel show has been the fabric and material section. But now special interest is being centred on the magnificence and beauty of the autumn and winter accessories.

OBJECTIONS SCENES IN THE FILM "THE REAL GLORY"

A United Press report recently that the Philippines Resident Commissioner in U.S., Senor Josquin Elizaide, took vigorous exception to at least half a dozen scenes in "The Real Glory," which is based on the American occupation of the Philippines especially the campaigns in Moroland, aroused considerable interest in Manila.

Reports from Hollywood some months ago indicated that the picture depicts Filipinos as undisciplined, cowardly soldiers.

One sequence shows an entire company of recruits, armed with rifles, becoming terrifled and scattering in all directions upon the appearance of a Moro.

An American officer, played, by Gary Cooper, captures the Moro and proceeds to show his men what cowards they have been by demonstrating that the Moro can be made to bawl for mercy by threatening to sew him up in the skin of a pig.

It was believed by local theatergoers that this implication would arouse the indignation not only of Filipinos but also of American officers in the Islands who have on numerous occasions attested to the fearlessness and devotion to duty of the Filipino soldier.

SOVIET - GERMAN PACT SIGNED

THE SOVIET-GERMAN pact of non-aggression has been signed in Moscow by the Foreign Ministers of the Soviet Union and the Reich and comes into force immediately The accord will remain in force for a period of ten moved, it does not in the least allay the uneasiness which prevails in other parts of the continent, and the world will continue to watch very closely the next moves on the European politico - military chessboard.

THERE IS NO suggestion so far that gloom has been cast over the Anglo-French-Soviet Staff talks and these, according to a message from Paris, will not be broken off though they may temporarily be interrupted. Britain and France naturally are anxious but there does not appear to be any unnecessary panic on the part of either country. On the contrary, a calm attitude is being taken and, though there is considerable activity. the two nations are prepared for any eventuality that may arise. The British Empire stands united and solid behind the Mother Country and the Dominions and Colonies are determined that, if Britain is forced into war, she will not go into it alone.

. THE SOVIET will, without a doubt, be given a free hand in her dealings with Japan and speculation is rife as to whether or not she will stand any of Japan's bullying and browbeating any longer. Moscow has stood as much as she has been able to tolerate from Tokyo but has been unable to take any action because of the fears that she might be attacked from the western front with the Reich as her potential enemy. Now, however, she no longer has any changed situation.

SO FAR AS CHINA is concerned, the hope is expressed new pact will result in increased Soviet aid in her war of resistance. The view comed in Chinese circles as a factor favourable to her national resistance policy.

BORDER INCIDENT DENIED

REPORT OF CLASH BETWEEN INDIAN AND JAPANESE TROOPS

Military authorities yesterday categorically denied the report that Japanese troops had attempted to cross into the New Territories from Shataukok two days ago, and that, in the course of the resistance put up by the Rajputana Rifles, several Indian soldiers were wounded.

MISTAKE MADE

It was stated that some Japanese soldiers did on one occasion trespass on British territory, but as soon as an interpreter arrived to clear up the language difficulty and pointed out their mistake, the Japanese retired to Chinese soll.

The situation along the border is said to be quiet, and it has not been necessary to reinforce the original force drawn from Middlesex Regiment and the Raiputana Rifles for duty in guarding the British posts.

Work of removing the railway and highway bridges over the Shumehun River, announced on Wednesday, is proceeding.

BRITISH FAR EASTERN AS MIRRORED IN THE TOKYO CONFERENCE

BY KUNG LING - KAI

(Special to the "Hongkong Daily Press")

At present, a number of factors engage the attention and consideration of the British Government. Apparently," such a change as contemplated is in direct violation of the letter as well as the spirit of the League resolutions, the Declaration of the Brussels Conference, and the Nine-Power Pact. In all probabilities, it will not fail to call forth unfavourable reactions and intensify suspicions in both America and Soviet Russia, to the detriment of Anglo-American and Anglo-Soviet co-operation in the Far East and Europe. Besides, can Britain ever satisfy Japan's demands and expect in the meantime to safeguard her own interests? Last but not least, the abandonment of her previous stand will certainly impair Anglo-Chinese friendship.

If Britain had exerted her effort to reach some working agreement with America concerning their policy in the Far East, Japan would not have dared to do as she does now in Tientsin. Instead, Britain prefers a policy of appeasement which is all the more unfortunate in view of the fact that she is trying to check aggression by the formation of a peace front.

NO RENUNCIATION OF GERMAN RIGHT TO UP FOR ALL "VITAL AND NATIONAL INTERESTS"

Hitler's Reply To Great Britain's Warning After A Brief Meeting With Sir Nevile Henderson

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (Reuter) - It is understood that Sir Nevile Henderson, the British Ambassador in Berlin, saw Herr Hitler at Berghof yesterday.

The meeting was stated to be very brief, the Ambassador merely handing over a document to the German Chancellor. It was stated later that a communique would be issued last night stating that Herr Hitler told Sir Nevile Henderson that Germany would not permit the British guarantee to affect "her vital rights and claims".

The official German news agency later issued a statement that "The German Fuehrer left the British Ambassador in no doubt that the obligations entered into by the British Government cannot induce Germany to renounce her right to stand up "for her vital and national interests."

A later message stated that Sir Nevile Henderson had not yet returned to Berlin and that no information about the Berchtesgaden meeting was available from British sources. It is regarded here as significant of the German mood that the Berlin authorities gave out this abrupt version of the meeting before Sir Nevile Henderson returned to Berlin.

TENSION INCREASES: FRENCH. SUBJECTS LEAVING BERLIN -BRITONS WAITING CALMLY

In the meanwhile, tension is undoubtedly increasing in Berlin and there are few hopeful signs in the report. Good signs are, however, the continued optimism amongst well-informed Germans and the fact that no slackening is perceptible in the preparations for the Tannenberg ceremony on Sunday and the Nuremberg Party Congress early in September.

The British colony is still waiting calmly for advice to leave the country, but French residents are already packing and proceeding to the tourist offices for their tickets. The Poles have received no instructions to leave.

The anti-Polish atrocity campaign by the newspapers continues more strongly than ever.

H.K. BLOCKADE REPORTS REPUDIATED

LONDON, Aug. 24 (Reuter)-Reuter learns that official circles in London repudiate sensational reports of a Japanese blockade of Hongkong. It is pointed out that Chinese guerillas were recently most active in this area as elsewhere and Japanese commanders duly notified Hongkong 48 hours in advance of the projected operations as promised last year, while relations between British and Japanese staffs on the Kowloon border continue to be normal and friendly.

A high authority told Reuter that the cutting of roads and bridges on the Kowloon border and the warning to women and children to be in readiness for evacuation are merely part Empire-wide precautions due the European crisis and it was an unlucky coincidence that they were simultanteous with Japanese operations.

All the searchlight targets are commercial" airplanes, and the pilots have thought the intruder might be from the R.A.F.

To-day the Air Ministry stated that this could not be the explanation, as R.A.F. airplanes" have not yet been sent up on these occasions.

One of the civil pilots said: "We first noticed this machine three weeks ago. It shows only one white havigation light under the fuselage."

"Every pilot engaged on search light target practice has reported its presence. We refer to it as the 'phantom plane.'"

"One night I decided to investigate. As soon as the searchlight practice was over I switched off my navigation lights and went in pursuit, but it was so fast that I had no hope of catching it."

The Government of India's decision to stop emigration of unskilled Indian labour to Ceylon is taken solely in the interest of Indian labour according to informed circles here who emphasise that any attempt to read more into the notification than what its terms explicitly "state, would be un-

The intention is explained to be to prevent Indian labourers continuing to flow into Ceylon under conditions which made it certain that they will be stranded there; and any suggestion of retaliation against the Ceylon Government's repartriation proposals is dismissed as unwarranted.

DUKE OF KENT WITH FISHERMEN

TOUR OF SCOTTISH PORTS

Although rain fell heavily most of the time the Duke of Kent was greeted by cheering crowds when he visited the Aberdeenshire herring fishing ports of Fraserburgh and Peterhead recently.

During his tour he inspected trawlers and drifters, saw curing. and kippering, and chatted with the workers. The Duke, who had travelled from London by train overnight. motored from Aberdeen accompanied by Mr. Robert Boothby. M.P. for East Aberdeenshire. On arrival at Fraserburgh he was received at the Square by Provosi Thompson, who presented to him members of the Herring Board, Lord Saltoun, and civic heads.

The Duke then travelled by car to the harbour, where representatives of all branches of the herring industry-fishermen, gutters, kipperers, curers, freshers, cannerswere presented. The sirens of the fleet of some 250 fishing-boats sounded a welcome.

V.C. SKIPPER

The Duke inspected the wheelhouse of the steam drifter Benachie, and the engine room of the modern motor-boat Grateful. In the Benachie he talked for nearly 10 minutes with the skipper, Joe Watt, who won the V.C. in 1917the first to be awarded a fisherman

In the herring market the Duke witnessed "several "shots" being auctioned, and afterwards was of the story telling. This no doubt, taken to kippering premises, where he saw the various processes. stage idiom and was 'at home through which a herring wentsplitting, washing, pickling, tentering and smoking-before it became a kipper.

At the borough boundary of Peterhead the Australian flag fluttered alongside the Union Jack. symbolising the Duke's impending departure for Australia.

After driving through streets decorated with flags the Duke went on foot to Port Henry Harbour, where he chatted with fisher-

At a fish preserving factory he saw herrings being processed and packed in tins for export all over the world.

INQUIRY ABOUT AUSTRALIA He inquired it much fish was sent to Australia, and was told that some years ago Australia was an important market but it had diminished considerably owing to competition from other countries. The Duke ate two varieties of herring at luncheon, which he took with members of the Peterhead Town Council. He sampled "Palace fillets" in chutney, which is uncooked, "and" "Duchess" herring, which is cooked. He described both as delightful dishes, JAN,-MARCH The market opened 1/16 of a cent higher for Spot and October-December deliveries with rate no change in January-March quotations as compared with Tuesday's closing rates.

The opening rates were quoted norminal for "all deliveries with general absence of interest. Later in the session, prices succumbed under the pressure of the consistent general selling, which met with little support, apparently under the influence of further bearish political cables. Some small business was transacted in January-March at 28-1/4.

Later in the afternoon further offerings were in evidence, and business came to pass on a very small scale at 28-1/8 for October-December and 28-1/16 for January-March.

The market was nervous and uncertain with an easy tone.

GROWING IN

"Growing of seasonal fruits in Singapore is rather a chancy, business," said Mr. R. E. Holttum. Director of Gardens, in the course of an address of "Climate and Plants in Singapore" before the Rotary Club.

Mr. Holttum explained that most fruit trees flowered during certain periods of the year, but the gap between fruiting seasons might be anything from 18 months to two years. An" additional factor which would tend to make the growing of fruits here risky was that crops were usually uncertain and small,

Seasonal flowering of certain != local evergreens, like the durian and mangosteen, was dependent, Mr. Holttum said, on dry seasons and, therefore, irregular. It was difficult to make a definite statement on this point due to lack of recorded, information.

The collection of information as to the behaviour and growth of certain plants in this country would provide, fascinating study for the amateur botanist, the speaker continued.

Leaves of rubber trees have the minimum span of life, and these trees change their leaves whenever there are very small changes in the continuous power indicated by weather.

A phenomenon in Singapore plant life is to be found, Mr. Holitum said, in the flowering of the Tembusu tree. "The plant flowers if dry weather follows immediately a wet season. This sudden change in temperature is all that is necessary for the Tembusu menace to prepare to help friends who defend themselves against force. When neighbours live together in a peaceable and friendly manner and it is found that one of them is contemplating an aggressive act of force against the other and is making open preparations for action it "is not a menace for others to announce their intention of aiding the threatened one."

Referring to the raising of the Bank Rate to 4 per cent., Mr. Chamberlain said that this was a normal protective measure designed to defend the resources of the country in a period of uncertainty. The public could best cooperate in this by reducing as far possible all commitments which involved directly or indirectly, the purchases of foreign exchange, by observing scrupulously the request of the Chancellor of the Exchequer that no capital should at present be sent or moved out of the country (Cheers) and finally by holding no more foreign assets than are strictly required for normal business purchases." Referring to the message handed to Herr Hitler by Sir Nevile Henderson yesterday, the Prime Minister said: "I made it plain, as had been done in the communique issued earlier, that if cause should arise, the British Government would be prepared to employ without delay all the force at their command" (Cheers).

Sir Nevile Henderson further conveyed the message that there was nothing in the British view on German-Polish questions that could not or should not be resolved without the use of force if situation of confidence could be restored. Chamberlain, in his message, also expressed the view to Herr Hitler that if there was a truce to all the incitement: that had been going on, suitable conditions might be established for direct negotiations between Germany and Poland.

Herr Hitler's reply included what amounted to a re-statement of the German thesis that Eastern Europe was a sphere in which Germany should have a free hand. and that if we or any other country having a less direct interest chose to interfere, the blame for the ensuing conflict would be

"The catastrophe has not yet come upon us and we must still hope that reason and sanity may find a way to reassert themselves. THE DOMINIONS

"Naturally our minds have turned to the Dominions and I appreclate very warmly the announcements made by Ministers in other parts of the Commonwealth (Cheers). The indications that we have been given from time to time in some cases as recently as yesterday-of their sympathy with peace and their attitude in the unhappy event of these

After an appreciative reference to King Leopold's appeal for peace yesterday, the Prime Minister reaffirmed the policy laid down in Lord Halifax's speech on June 29. for the peoples of the world. That policy aims at seeing established an international order but this cannot be built unless it is based on international confidence. conforms to the observation of international undertakings once entered into and the renunciation.

"ROBIN HYDE" DEAD IN LONDON

LONDON, Aug. 24 (Reuter)-The death has occurred of Miss Iris Wilkinson ("Robin Hyde") the novelist. Her latest book, "Dragon Rampant," vividly described her experiences in the Sino-Japanese conflict.

. . . "Robin Hyde," who was the first eye-witness to report to the world the Japanese atrocities at the fall of Hsuchow, lived in Hongkong for three months during 1938. An appreciation of her work and personality written by friend has been held over due to pressure on space and will appear in to-morrow's "Daily Press,"

Yen's body was discovered by members of his family. The police subsequently discovered a piece of paper in his pocket, saying that Yen was killed because he was a lieutenant of "Two Ton" Chang Yu-ching, the notorious traitergangster who was recently assassinated in Nanking.

The general belief is that Yen was killed by his own men.

"On important missions" they also recently visited Chungking

These facts were revealed by Dr. Chang Po-lin, President of the Nankai University and concurrently Deputy Chairman of the National People's Political Congress, in an interview with Reuter this morning:
